NEW "WAX" TO FIGHT TB. IS LATEST HOPE

Recent Discovery Acts Like
"Blacksmith" in Human Lungs

ATLANTIC CITY, Dec. 30.—A hitherto unknown wax extracted from tubercular germs, and acting like a "blacksmith" in the lungs, was exhibited today to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The "blacksmith" was shown for the first time by Dr. Robert J. Anderson, Yale University chemist. It is a substance in a series of new waxes, fats, phosphates and compounds which he has discovered in the bodies of tubercular germs.

This "blacksmith" is one of the most active of the substances yet found. Its destructive job is to weld together two kinds of healthy human cells, which when combined form the "tubercle" growth of tuberculosis.

The same wax has been found in Bovine tuberculosis germs. It is not found in any of the other kinds of tuberculosis and for this reason is considered an important find, as one of the significant differences applying to the human disease.

BERLIN, Dec. 30.—German warships sailed toward the southern Spanish coast last night to attempt to force surrender of a passenger and the cargo of the German freighter Palm, held by socialist Bilbao.

The freighter itself, seized by Basque authorities at Bilbao last week, was released "upon demand of the cruiser Koenigsberg, a cut foreign office announcement said.

But the cargo, which the Basques still comprised munitions despite German protests, and one Spanish passenger, were held. They now must be surrendered on German warships may retaliate by searching ships of both or all nations heading for Bilbao, Germany warned.

CRUISER ACCOMPANIED
The cruiser Koenigsberg and a torpedo boat were dispatched to the Bay of Biscay to force the Palm to surrender.

The Palm is a 10,000-ton passenger and cargo ship, built in Germany and registered there. It was carrying 16 German passengers and 16 crew members. It was also carrying 1,000 tons of cargo, including 1,000 tons of munitions.

PARIS, Dec. 30.—Great Britain and France will make a second representation to Berlin if Chancellor Hitler evades answer to the pending request to ban "volunteer enlistments" to Fascist Spain, French foreign office circles said. Asked what France would do if such representation proved barren, one official said: "First of all we expect Germany to accept. . . . But in case Hitler should refuse, there is nothing we could do but see that all volunteers necessary were sent to aid the Madrid government to balance the German aid. . . . We cannot watch the constitution of a veritable German army on the other side of our Pyrenean frontier minus the threat."

Diplomatic Europe waits tensed and anxious as Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany debates Fascist Spain's request for 60,000 more German troops to aid his assault on Spanish loyalist strongholds, and British and French warnings that further participation in the Spanish civil strife will probably lead to a general war. Hitler must balance his new army against the nation's economic stringency. Britain and France have offered credits to help provide food stuffs for the already rationed Reich in exchange for Hitler's refusal of France's request. It was reliably reported that Dr. Puchner had five army units, each of 12,000 men, packed and ready to send to Spain. German long range guns like the one shown, may soon be battering Madrid and German troops (below) are going deep into Burgos. Spanish Fascist headquarters. Should Hitler refuse, Britain and France have warned Berlin that their attitude towards Germany must inevitably shift. On top of this Hitler also has warned Hitler.

Italy's Dictator Decides To Wash His Hands of Franco

BERLIN, Dec. 30.—Chancellor Hitler has been advised by Premier Mussolini of Italy, informed quarters in close touch with Rome said, to withdraw gracefully from Spain as soon as possible.

Hitler was represented as having decided to wash his hands of General Franco and the Spanish situation, and to have suggested that Hitler follow suit.

Mussolini's future policy toward Spanish Fascism was expected in guarded circles to have great weight in any decision. Hitler and his lieutenants reach out for Franco's support in the event of intervention in the Spanish civil war.

The chancellor, cutting short his Christmas holiday, returned to the capital, called a conference of Nazi leaders, including Baron Konstantin von Neurath, minister of foreign affairs, and Joachim von Ribbentrop, ambassador to London.

How far Germany will go to free Hitler from the Spanish situation, and how far a Spanish passenger and freight vessel from the steamship Palm while it was involved in Bilbao harbor may be settled at the conference.

Dark Recesses Of International Drama Exposed

By WICKHAM STEED
Editor of the London Times
Copyright by The Editor of the London Times

THROUGHOUT the British Commonwealth of Nations the year 1936 will long be remembered for three events, one of them unprecedented in the long annals of English history.

These were the death of King George V, the accession of King Edward VIII and the abdication of the latter in favor of the Duke of York.

At five minutes before midnight on January 20, King George V passed away in the presence of Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the Princess Royal and the Duke and Duchess of Kent.

On January 21 the Prince of Wales succeeded the throne as King Edward VIII, at the age of 41. His accession was solemnly proclaimed with traditional ceremony in London and throughout the Empire.

Won His Way To Hearts of People

In a tribute to the memory of King George which was broadcast from London by the Prime Minister, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, said on the evening of January 21:

King George, it is true, inherited his position on the throne, but he won his own way to the hearts of the people. Great power, which corrupts weak nature, ruled King's character and made him subdue passion and will and energy to his duty to the country. . . .

Of King Edward VIII Mr. Baldwin said: . . . He is now summoned to face responsibilities more onerous, more exacting, more continuous than any he has hitherto been asked to discharge. He comes to them in the prime of his powers, and already known throughout the length and breadth of his Empire, his great gifts of mind and heart he is now called upon to consecrate to the people. He inherits an example of kindly conduct, of virtue, of wisdom and of endurance.

Many thought they heard in the Prime Minister's reference to the late King's example a justified note of exhortation to King Edward.

King's Entry and Exit Told in Broadcast

On March 1 King Edward broadcast a message to his peoples. Speaking of his father he said: . . . Throughout his reign he set a high example of constant devotion to duty. . . . It is no mere form of speech to say that he reigned in the hearts of his people. . . . It now falls upon me to succeed him and to carry on his work. . . . May the future bring peace and understanding throughout the world.

CITY TO SEEK EARLY PARLEY OVER INTEREST

The validity of its interest move.
A statement by Mayor Joseph A. Clarke, K.C., that the city would seek an early conference with the government to obtain an equitable adjustment between the city and the interest question, council took no further action Tuesday.

WANTS RULING

Ald. Ogilvie took the stand that if the province refused to make some concession to the city in connection, then the government should be requested to rule on the validity of its step in interest on provincial debentures.
Attacking the first from another angle, Ald. Edwards, a Credit Councillor, favored an exchange bonds between the city and province and urged the Dominion, K.C.

WANTS ADJUSTMENT

Ald. Fry said he hoped there would be an early conference between the city and province on the interest question with a view to obtaining an equitable adjustment.
Referring to a motion moved by himself several months ago and which was later rescinded by council, Ald. Fry said this motion had interested on city bonds had given the province a view to his motion had provided for an arbitrary bond interest, cut by the city.

WANTS ADJUSTMENT

"I wanted the city's interest payable to the province, in the view of the fact that the province was the one who had the right to the city," he said, adding that surely the city had no right to do this.
The provincial government had given an interest on city bonds, but not any constitutional guarantee.

WANTS ADJUSTMENT

Ald. Hugh J. Macdonald pointed out that council had instructed commissioners to confer with the government in June in connection with the interest question, and that six months elapsed with no result. He said that council knew, particularly since Edmonton was losing $200,000 to $250,000 as a result of the rate cut.

WANTS ADJUSTMENT

"When the government is paying a million a month for unemployment relief they've got the whip hand," the mayor said.
The government had power to cut interest, but Edmonton had not. Ald. W. C. Cleverly said, Step should be taken by the city to obtain this power.
Hostly criticism of Mayor Clarke, Ald. Ogilvie recalled that the city council on a motion by Ald. Fry, had voted to withhold interest on city bonds until the province had agreed to a three-month period, he said.

WANTS ADJUSTMENT

"You're not playing a little high politics," accused Ald. Ogilvie. "That early" the mayor said.

PLUG GAP IN NEUTRALITY LAWS

LONDON, Dec. 30.—President Roosevelt's support of prompt legislative action to fill the gap in the United States neutrality laws which permits arms export to the Spanish belligerents today played an important part in relieving tension over the Spanish crisis.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The Roosevelt administration today moved into action today to plug a gap in its neutrality law and prevent a proposed shipment of United States airplanes and motors to the Spanish government.

President Roosevelt suggested new legislation which would give him discretionary power to prohibit such exports to nations suffering internal strife.

Present neutrality law provides for embargo on arms shipment to warring nations but not to forces engaged in civil conflict.

PRESIDENT COMMENT
At a press conference, the President commented directly upon the license obtained Monday by Robert Cuse, president of the Vineland Company Ltd., of Jersey City, to export $277,000 worth of planes and motors to the Spanish Republic.

He said the state department previously had informed applicants for license the shipments would be in violation of the spirit of the law although men had been given the department and he praised them for it. He added the action by the state department was a case of the law being bent.

Mr. Roosevelt expressed the opinion that if the new congress quickly enacts the neutrality law, the country need not suffer from internal strife. Cuse could not recover damages if he were prohibited by the new law from carrying out his contract.

The recent supreme court decision upholding presidential arms embargo powers would prevent recovery, he said.

SAME PLEA MADE
When a reporter mentioned that Cuse contended the shipments were not for war purposes, the president said the same plea was made by shippers during the early days of the Great War.

Even before the president spoke, Chairman Pittman of the senate foreign relations committee was planning to seek quick enactment of a neutrality amendment to stop the proposed shipment.

Drifting an amendment which would authorize the president to prohibit munitions shipments to either side in a major civil war, he expressed hope it would be passed in time to block the Cuse shipment.

(Cuse previously had said his planes and engines would not be used for shipment for two months.)

Making Oyster Stew From Famous Recipes

By MARY E. DAGUE

Oyster stew early in the morning—'that's what the night-lingers indulge in. For stay-at-homes and less glamorous livers, oyster stew makes an equally thrilling lunch or supper dish. Here's how they make it at a world famous oyster bar in the East which is visited every year by hundreds of thousands of traveling Americans.

OYSTER STEW

Six fat fresh oysters, 2 pieces of butter, 1 cup oyster liquor, 1 cup rich milk, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, celery salt, pepper, paprika, (increase your recipe on this basis according to the size of your family).

Get the butter hot. Into the hot butter turn the strained whole oysters. Cook in hot butter until the edges begin to curl. Then add the oyster liquor. Heat, add Worcestershire sauce and seasoning. Add warm milk and bring just to boiling point and remove instantly from fire. Place another piece of butter in bottom of a hot bowl. Turn in the stew. Dust with paprika and serve with bowl of oyster crackers.

Some chowder can be almost any thing these days. But up Rhode Island way they have not ideas on the subject. After you try this recipe you will agree that they have a reason to change.

Manners Of The Moment

By JEAN LYON

Sometimes, it's hard to be kind, and act as though you really thought you had been saved from a great calamity. At least, that's the way you can look at it.

Let's you can take up the cudgels, and try to argue them out of it, arguing has no effect on the add-on. Once you have the best thing to do is to think up a nice bunch of counter superlatives around them. When your pal yanks you out from under a ladder, just look at it with a horrified expression, and say: "That's a good luck for me and you." When I go around the outside of a ladder I always catch cold. Your friends will look at you with new admiration. And you'll be free to go your own way, but certainly with a tall story or two to tell.

Artificial Nails Are Now Becoming Popular

By GLADYS GLAD

When King Solomon, who was renowned for his wisdom, remarked that there is nothing new under the sun, he probably knew what he was talking about. Take the case of artificial fingernails. That Paris was so sponsoring for instance. Most women have the idea that they are exclusively an invention of this modern era.

As lovely Rochelle Hudson of cinema fame has told you, artificial fingernails really are becoming very popular today. Rochelle has some natural, beautifully shaped nails, but she really hasn't needed for artificial ones. But she does like to wear artificial nails occasionally for evening wear, especially the daytime wear, but they give a pleasing effect when worn for formal functions. The tips present a "jeweled" appearance.

The artificial fingernails of today, of course, are considerably different from the ones that those Egyptian princesses wore. They are made of cellulose, and are made to resemble the natural fingernails, and are made to last for a long time. They are made to last for a long time, and are made to last for a long time.

WOMEN WANT TO KNOW

However, judging from my recent mail, there are many women who do not know much about the new artificial nails and their uses. I mentioned these nails in one of my articles not so long ago, and since I've been simply hampered by space in discussing them, they have been very popular.

Marriage Is Never a Cure-All For the Vices That Man Has, So a Girl Would Be Wise If She Takes These Into Consideration Before She Goes to Altar

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a girl 22 years old, very much in love with a young man of the same age. He is all I could wish for in a husband. He is a good, kind, and very nice fellow, and he is very much in love with me. He is a good, kind, and very nice fellow, and he is very much in love with me.

Answer:

If you have any grain of sense in your head or any cure whatever for your future happiness, you should listen to your parents' advice and back them up in their demand that this girl prove herself worthy of you and capable of taking care of you before you marry him.

They ask nothing unreasonable, merely that he give up one of the most vicious and destructive vices in the world, and that he prove to her that he can support a wife. Any man who is fit to marry can stand on all these points. If he can't a girl would be better dead than married to him.

You say the reason this boy doesn't work is because he never takes any job that comes along. He wants something that suits his little of the old World War I. He wants something that suits his little of the old World War I. He wants something that suits his little of the old World War I.

MUST RAISE STANDARD OF BEEF CATTLE

Necessary in Order to Facilitate Marketing Farm Experts Told

Necessity of raising the standard of beef cattle in Alberta in order to facilitate marketing was stressed by D. A. Macdonald, speaking at a meeting of farm experts of the Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture and the University of Agriculture of the Medical building at the University Tuesday afternoon.

"A house cleaning to get rid of the mediocre grades of cattle that are dragging down the market prices and making the consumer who is willing to set out to obtain a higher type of beef," was the keynote.

In a general discussion led by N. Curtis it was pointed out by J. L. Longman that the wide spread of the market for beef is largely responsible for withholding a large part of the market.

"A producer selling cattle on the hoof would be offered about $18 for a cow that would net, in retail sale, over the consumer $30 to $35," said Mr. Longman.

In order to increase this, he advocated, there should be some check so that the consumer would pay less and the producer would get more than at the present time.

GREATEST INCREASE

Tracing the development of the dairy industry in Alberta during the past few years J. R. Sweeney stated that the greatest increase in the industry has been in the area north of Wetaskiwin. The area between Bowden and Millet has the largest increase in production, he said.

Brooks and Didsbury, Brudenbury, New Sarepta and Okanow have also experienced a rise, he claimed, though he stated that the greatest increase had been noticed in the Peace River district.

"Daylight is best confined to those areas where it can survive naturally," he stated.

He said that the best cattle to raise are the ones that are most adapted to the conditions of the area.

In the evening a banquet took place in the Cornish hotel, where about 100 guests were present. The speaker was Rev. H. A. McLeod.

Council Urges Feasibility of Airmail Route

Anxious to obtain an inland route for the airmail service, the United States to Alaska next summer, city council Tuesday decided to urge upon the Dominion government the feasibility of a route which would include Lethbridge, Calgary and Edmonton.

The recent Pacific Northwest Aviation Planning conference held in Portland, Ore., and which was attended by Edmonton delegates, realized there were advantages to the inland route. Alberta cities are now seeking government confirmation of this proposed route.

Rival interests want the mail line established via Vancouver, Prince George, Finlay Forks, B.C. and thence to Whitehorse, Alaska.

Listen Inn
Grand opera will be broadcast this season with greater fidelity than ever before as a result of the first use of the new RCA unidirectional ribbon microphones in the Metropolitan Opera House, according to Dr. H. Hansen, chief engineer of the National Broadcasting Company.

The new microphone, perfected especially for the purpose of increasing efficiency of radio pickup under conditions such as prevail at the Metropolitan, picks up in great degree sounds coming from the first row of the orchestra and the voices of singers anywhere in the auditorium. The unidirectional ribbon microphone is designed to do this with greater fidelity than any instrument previously in use.

More realistic reception is made possible by an increase of tone range in the new microphone. This increase brings forth a finer reproduction of the high notes and subtle nuances of the music. The microphone is also capable of the complete RCA high fidelity equipment to be installed at the Metropolitan. New type RCA amplifiers will replace all of the old amplifiers at the opera house. The equipment will be installed in duplicate to safeguard the programs against any possible break.

5 SURPLUSES ROLLED UP BY SUMMER FAIR

Exhibition Profit Now $64,700 Association Report Reveals

That the Edmonton Exhibition Association has shown surpluses for the past five years aggregating $64,700 was disclosed to the annual meeting of shareholders held Thursday afternoon in the council chamber, George R. Ball, president of the association, who briefly reviewed activities of 1936 in his presidential address for 1937 operations was $6,133.

The financial statement, published some days ago, was read to the shareholders and adopted. Many of the directors and shareholders complimented the management and stated that the excellent showing of the association during the past five years was $6,133.

Ex-auditors James East stated that advances made by the association during the five periods had resulted in reduced public confidence, in consequence, better profits for the association. He also paid high tribute to the work accomplished by the management, directors and staff of the association.

Particular mention was made by directors of Pilot M. Berry's courageous work in rescuing Flight Lt. Shagden Coleman and Aircrewman Joseph Fortey, of the Royal Canadian Air Force, who were lost last summer in the northwestern wilderness.

Berry's name was considered when candidates for the McKee trophy were considered. This trophy is the Dominion's highest award for any flyer to civil aviation.

Looking Them Over

Bowling Day

LAST NIGHT Promoter Freddie Osborne completed arrangements for the main events on his next post fight card for the Memorial Hall on January 12. Eddie McSporean will again be the main event, and this time he will take on Young Tunney over a 10-round bout in what has the earmarks of being a grudge battle. Young Tunney is the fighting name of Emil Lutz's scrappy kid brother. When McSporean won a decision over Lutz here a short time ago, he hung a right on Emil's jaw that fractured it in the fourth round. Emil will not be able to fight again until February at the earliest.

In the meantime Young Tunney is fired with a crushing spirit and is anxious to get on swelling terms with the man who cracked down on his brother's jaw. He has been turning in some nice fights and he should be able to give McSporean just as good a fight as Emil did. If he does that, the customers will go home happy again.

The semi-final event is a natural that the great majority of Edmonton fans have been itching to see—Gordon Grayson against Wilbert Young, the Rhinestone middleweight who scored knockouts in his two last fights here. Young carries a deadly wallop in both hands, but so far he has not run up against an opponent with Grayson's boxing ability—at least not in an Edmonton ring. It is a set-to that should be a honey all the way. Details of the prelims have not been completed yet, but Osborne expects to have a total of 10 or more rounds on his card.

Walter Hagen Probably Ponders

FOLLOWING the dramatic change of Edward VIII into the Duke of Windsor, Walter Hagen of golf fame probably thought more than once of the jettison crack which he made to the late king following the close of the British epoch. Hagen was at one of London's smart night centers after the coronation when Edward, then Prince of Wales, came in with a party. Knowing the prince's keen interest in golf, friends introduced Hagen to him.

They chatted for a few minutes and the Prince remarked that he envied Hagen's golfing ability. Hagen laughed. "Well, I'd certainly like to be your job," he shot back. "It must be pretty odd being a king." The Prince didn't laugh. "If I could, I would trade with you in a minute," he retorted.

For weeks Hagen laughingly told his friends of the incident, opining that the Prince had either been kidding him or was slightly barmy. Today he probably understands for the first time how dearly earnest the Prince was and appreciates how close the historic moment was on the course of Kingship.

Cards Are Doing Right Well

TWO days before Christmas, dividend checks of $12 per share were in the mails to all stockholders of the St. Louis Cardinals. Last year the payoff was $10 per share. This stock was originally sold at $25 per share, but you would be lucky to buy any of it today for $200 a share. Sam Braden, club president, owns 76 per cent of the stock.

Friday Is Bowl Day

ON Friday hundreds of thousands of Americans will jam into a hall to witness bowls for the New Year finale of a football season that failed to produce a single team that could claim unanimous recognition as national champions in the college classification. It was about the toughest season that the game has ever had in the U. S. so far as definite titles are concerned. Up to now the last undefeated team, the one that is thought to have won the championship, is the one that is thought to have won the championship, is the one that is thought to have won the championship.

California's rose bowl will see Pittsburgh and Washington tangled in a team selection that is far from popular. The Biscardi Bowl at Havana has Duquesne vs. Mississippi. In addition there are New Orleans Sugar Bowl, Cotton Bowl and no one knows how many smaller affairs that can be rated much more than success. However, it may be the last year for these post-season games, for they are being overdone, and university boards are ganging up to eliminate them.

Wesleys Invade Edmonton Junior Lair New Years

Saskatoon Team Reputed Strong; E.A.C.' To Oppose Them

Hockey enthusiasts and sports minded citizens will be given excellent hockey entertainment on New Year's Day here when the Saskatoon Wesleys invade the Edmonton Junior Lair to play the E.A.C. in a special holiday exhibition tilt. The game will start at 8:00 o'clock. Wesleys are the pick of Saskatoon juniors this year and are expected to give the local team a hard battle. However Edmonton has in the E.A.C. team a well known hockey team, the Saskatoon Wesleys, with plenty of fighting spirit and they are bound to give the sister province team plenty to worry about.

A thumbnail sketch of the E.A.C. players follows:

Brilliant Athletes Of 1936

Rise to Tie For Second Place Slot

The third consecutive year, Johnny Leaning of Windsor starts the CENTRE strip (left to right) and he, like Edward, took his place by reason of Olympic triumphs. Leaving back Canada in the spotlight but it was left to Frank Ampt (second from right) to bring home the only gold medal to name Canada's way. The Britanna Boating club, from Ottawa took the singles canoe event. Next to him is Hon. R. C. Mathews of Toronto who led a representative Canadian cricket team to England for the first time in many years which produced an amazingly successful stand against Old Country opposition.

Lawson Little, the San Francisco sage, is at the right. He ranks by virtue of his Canadian open golf championship victory, scored with an eight-stroke margin. Golfers also dominate the LOWER strip. Left is Fred Haas of New Orleans, Canadian amateur golf champion of the year and next him, Mrs. A. B. Deuling of Montreal, the ladies' open winner. At the right is the country's "top" quarter quartet, the Watson rink from Winnipeg, holders of the Macdonald-Brier trophy. The broommen are Ken Watson, skip; Grant Watson, third; Marvin McIntyre, second, and Charlie Kerr, lead.

Dominion Contestants Fail to Click as Champions and Near Champions Grace Sport Pages During 1936

TORONTO, Dec. 30—A year of sport highlighted by the Olympic games in Garmisch-Partenkirchen for the winter season and in Berlin for the summer, Bays Canada will much to be desired in the realm of international competition. The Olympic hockey championship, Canada's own special pride since the last sport was first introduced to Olympia, was followed by a disastrous track and field showing at Berlin. Stuck up against the rest of the world, the Dominion must admit that she failed to "click."

NEW SOCRED ORDER LOOMS FOR ALBERTA

Itation must be broken. "Even if it takes months to put it over, at least I don't believe they will be necessary."

"What happens here matters to the whole world. We are in duty bound to the people of the world to succeed," said Mr. Kuhl.

BATTLE FOR SURVIVAL

"We are going to need your help... for it is a battle for survival."

"And you must battle more determinedly than ever before," said Mr. Kuhl.

He pointed, federal member from Peace River, in ringing accents.

Legislation which may seem radical, but will reveal itself to be beneficial, warned Joe Unwin (S. C. Jager).

"We have only one remedy... and that is financial... and the only constitution is the will of the majority," said Mr. Kuhl.

Such was the tone of the speakers, who in addressing the meeting, foretold the day when they believed the Alberta government will issue its own currency or conduct its business by means of a system of credit and debt.

Under the plan, the government will issue its own currency, and the problems involving the payment of dividends would, it was claimed, be solved.

of pensions and relief, and a 10-cent press would bring in the people who these reports that the government should decide upon for their reading.

And the assurance of the members that the next party caucus would bring forth the plan, and that the next session would institute these basic principles of social credit.

1—Issuance in this province of a new kind of purchasing power, debt free and tax free to the consumer.

2—Payment of social credit dividends to all citizens.

3—Institution of the compensation of price discount, which tells the merchant to sell at a discount and then reimburses him for his loss with state credit, thus guaranteeing a lowering of prices to the consumers.

DRASTIC ACTION

"Drastic action is necessary, and the people of Alberta should use their own products for themselves, and develop them with their own credit," advised Mr. Unwin.

"Something will have to be done by way of becoming absolute masters of money in this province. That is the first step," explained Mr. Kuhl.

"What is the most important—the constitution, laws or human life?"

"It will take matters... then let us have them... you must press your representative for social credit, which is a very real credit, while others are established or forgotten," as spoke Mr. Kuhl.

The delegates sat in hushed silence, Mr. Kuhl, endorsing his statements, and warning that the present seeming return of prosperity would be but a boom caused by the fear of war in Europe. Rene Pelletier, fiery orator from the Peace River constituency pleaded for support for the movement.

R. E. Amley, assistant general secretary of the Social Credit League of Alberta, told of the growth of the league which now has 100 registered groups, he said, and a membership of more than 10,000. He promised that a new future would be revealed at the Social Credit provincial convention to be held in the Temple in Edmonton on January 14 and 15.

"It would be premature to reveal our plans at the present time, but the coming session will introduce legislation which will come into effect until the farm products are sold at the right price, our debt legislation showed... our only constitutional limit will be the will of the majority."

The committee dealt with 38 resolutions.

JUST FARM PRICE

One asked that the government should not set a just price on farm products, and that the industrial and craftsmen codes be not put into effect until the farm products had been first considered. "Codes should begin at the right place, and that is the bottom," said one member.

Another added that the present codes have left the consumer right out of the picture.

The motion was then amended by the addition of the suggestion that the government should have established our own provincial credit.

Passed only after heated discussion, and then by a vote of brought out into the open and will place before the provincial conference a question which had been the food of gossip and rumor for some time.

Resolution for the government to enter the wholesale business in order to buy the products of Alberta credit. It was proposed that the government should accept goods as contained in another resolution which was carried after a short discussion.

RESOLUTION LOST

Resolution for the government to accept recent legislation regarding private debt to the bonded indebtedness of the province was lost.

Other resolutions recommended that a license fee of one dollar be levied on all motor vehicles... and the rest be raised by a tax on gasoline, that trucks be allowed to carry passengers, that young people between the ages of 15 and 18 be taken care of either by a special dividend or work... in order that the party might secure their co-operation.

The convention split into two sections with the press present at one, excluded from the other.

One delegate said that the press "pressures" would be a kick-back because people would think they were dictatorial. Another opposed the suggestion because it would be inefficient to license Alberta newspapers when the press in the rest of Canada and the United States could come into the province freely.

Still another said the main indictment against newspapers was a refusal to withdraw erroneous reports and suggested they be forced to print retractions on the front cover of their papers.

Canadian National and Canadian Pacific to Improve Service

MONTREAL, Dec. 20.—Rail equipment orders amounting to about $23,000,000 are expected to be announced shortly, with the Canadian National Railways arranging for $10,000,000 worth of new stock and the Canadian Pacific $13,000,000.

Current reports have placed the amount of new equipment to be acquired by the railways within the next half year at about $20,000,000 but so far as could be learned the $23,000,000 orders are all that have been provided for at present.

It is considered possible that the order undoubtably in for new locomotives and cars and if so the Trenton (New Jersey) steel works might receive a fair allocation. Mr. Kelley said. A rail order was also a possibility, he said.

There have been no official announcements.
